

Easter Style

Spring is upon us! With the season comes beautiful weather and longer days. It's definitely one of my favorite seasons! Easter will also be celebrated soon. I've put together several looks that will carry you from church to brunch and, of course, photos with the family!

Green is such a perfect shade for spring! I love the eyelet details on this dress. The pockets are another great bonus. Pair with neutral braided heels for a great look in your Sunday best!

Dress $34 and shoes $34
available via Target

I've been eyeing this dress myself to wear for Easter! I love the floral print and Grecian style one shoulder. I would pair with these neutral and clear heels; a style that will be extremely popular from now through summer! I personally own this pair and can attest to how comfortable they are.

Dress $133
available via Revolve
and shoes $118
available via Nordstrom

This pink maxi dress is one of my very favorites I own! It looks stunning in photos and can be worn virtually year round. These slides look extremely comfortable and will pair perfectly with it!

Dress $168
available via Revolve
and shoes $125
available via Nordstrom

Bows and pink just go together! I love this jumpsuit for a different take on an Easter look. Pair with these block sandals and a low ponytail for a sleek look!

Jumpsuit $99 and shoes $79
available via Dillard's

This shade of fuschia is gorgeous for spring! I love the flutter sleeves and wrap detail. It's a dress that would look flattering on all body types! Pair with these square toe pumps in nude to complete the look.

Dress $34 and heels $25
available via Target

This blouse from Johnny Was makes for a great option if you don't want a dress. You can create a feminine, flowing and colorful look with this chic design. Style with darker wash jeans and white booties.

Blouse $265
available via Labels Boutique
and booties $69
via Shoe Carnival

